US Veto Threatened By Dean Rusk

Proposed Changes In United Nations Would Be Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today blasted back at Soviet Premier Khrushchev's attack on the United Nations and threatened a U.S. veto if necessary to block Khrushchev's proposals for U.N. changes.

Speaking with the advance approval of President Kennedy, Rusk charged that Khrushchev is attacking the system of "equal right and equal opportunities" which all nations in the world league now possess.

Noting that Khrushchev had said the U.N. is heading for "ruin and death" unless it is changed, Rusk declared:

"No one else wants the 'ruin and death' of the United Nations."

The statement was issued at the State Department by Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland on behalf of Rusk. Press officer Lincoln White said the declaration had the approval of Kennedy.

Soblen Found Guilty

Decent Treatment Planned for Spy

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen—already doomed by blood cancer—has been convicted on a spy charge that could bring a death chair sentence.

But the judge who presided at his trial plans to send the 61-year-old psychiatrist to some institution that "is able to afford humane and decent medical facilities."

"Justice must be just," says Federal Judge William B. Herlands.

The judge directed medical specialists to recommend to him today where to send Soblen.

The psychiatrist closed his eyes and turned chalky-white as the jury found him guilty Thursday of spying for the Soviet Union during World War II.

He writhed on the reclining chair he had used much of the time during his four-week trial. Soblen, who had taken pills frequently during the trial and sucked on ice cubes, did not take the witness stand to defend himself.

Doctors testified for the defense that he has lymphatic leukemia and has less than a year to live.

A key witness against Soblen was his brother, Jack Soblen, 57, who was sent to prison for 7½ years in 1957 for espionage. The brother, who spells his name differently, pleaded guilty to heading an espionage ring that was closely connected with Soviet em-

Treasury Seeks $16 Billion Loan For Refinancing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury is going to borrow in a big way—$16 billion—to help finance this year's expected budget deficit of at least $4 billion.

In the most massive borrowing since 1959, the Treasury will dangle bait that it expects almost all interested sectors of the money market will find attractive.

Next week, the department will refinance $12.5 billion of old debts and borrow $3.5 billion in new cash. The new cash will be raised through an auction next Thursday of tax anticipation bills maturing next March. Lenders will fix the interest rate on these by bidding for them at a discount.

Owners of $12.5 billion of old securities maturing between Aug. 1 and Oct. 1 will be able to exchange them for any of three new issues.

Issued By Pope John XXIII

Longest Encyclical In History

VATICAN CITY (AP)—In a wide-ranging new encyclical on social problems of the modern world, Pope John XXIII called today for industry to limit profits and make sure that the working man receives a wage that allows him to live in dignity.

The encyclical, at 25,000 words the longest in the history of the Roman Catholic Church, said the plight of backward nations is "perhaps the major problem of the modern epoch." Pope called for advanced states to give sincere and disinterested aid to the underdeveloped in the cause of "fruitful and lasting" peace.

He reaffirmed the Roman Catholic Church's traditional stand on the rights of private property, but declared socialization does not turn men into automatons if it "confines its activity within the limits of the moral order."

In the first full restatement of the Church's attitude toward social problems in three decades, this pontiff son of a farmer bore down heavily on the problems of the individual. He made these points:

1. "Very great remuneration" is made for some task of doubtful value while "the diligent and profitable work of whole classes of decent, hard-working men receive a payment that is much too small." But "workers should be paid a wage which allows them to live a truly human life and to face up with dignity to their family responsibilities." The worker should be allowed to buy shares

Berlin White Paper Is Being Prepared

Would Show Efforts Made On Terms

See Berlin Crisis As Propaganda Tool For Both Sides

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is preparing a "white paper" on Berlin to dramatize before the world the repeated efforts of the Western powers to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on a German peace settlement.

As U.S. officials presently see the Berlin crisis, the dispute between the Western powers and the Soviet Union over the future of West Berlin is now in a propaganda warfare phase with both sides using public speeches and statements to influence world opinion.

One of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's insistent arguments has been that action is long overdue to eliminate what he calls the bestiges of World War II in Germany.

He has proposed that the Western powers withdraw their force of about 11,000 men from West Berlin and give it the status of a "free city"—that is, a city without Western troops in it. Failing that, he has threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany by the end of this year with the claim that this would wipe out Western rights with respect to West Berlin.

The United States, after weeks of consultation with Britain, West Germany and France, plans to send a note to Moscow by the middle of next week rejecting Khrushchev's demand and warning anew that the Western powers will not yield any of their rights to be in Berlin or to have access to the city across East Germany.

As presently drafted and undergoing final consultation with other NATO allies, the U.S. note reviews the history of German peace settlement negotiations going back to the defeat of the Nazis in World War II. The Western powers' basic position is that the divided city of Berlin must find its future as the capital of a German nation reunited through free elections in East as well as West Germany.

The father yelled for an employee to summon the fire department and then collapsed. The son was hospitalized in fair condition with contusions. (AP Wirephoto)

'Abducted' Last Weekend

Charge Patrolman In Embezzlement

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Iowa Highway Patrolman Robert H. Wilke, 31, victim of an alleged abduction, has been suspended and charged with embezzlement by public officer, state Safety Commissioner Carl Pesch said today.

Wilke, who said he was abducted by three unidentified men last Saturday, was charged in a preliminary information in justice of the peace court at Chariton, Pesch said.

The commissioner said a woman, he identified as Mrs. Nancy Grubbs, 49, of Chariton, has been charged with conspiracy in connection with the case. She was being held for Iowa authorities at Hiawatha, Kan.

Pesch said the abduction story told by Wilke was a hoax. He said the embezzlement charge involved the theft of a service revolver.

He said the patrolman, married and the father of three children, had been arraigned before Justice of the Peace Earl Ambelang at Chariton Township and bond set at $2,000. Pesch said Wilke was in custody at a hospital in Chariton.

Wilke had said he was overpowered about 12:30 a.m. last Saturday on Highway 65 near Lucas when he stopped to assist a motorist parked along the highway.

The patrolman walked into a farm home near Lamoni Sunday night, some 45 miles from the point of the reported abduction.

Wilke had said he realized there were gaps in his account, but said he feels fear caused him to forget details.

He said he was thrown from the abductor's car after being driven around for several hundred miles. Wilke, a milk route driver before he became a patrolman several years ago, was reported missing by his 30-year-old wife, Eleanor, Saturday morning when he failed to return home after his tour of duty ended at 1 a.m.

Wreck Ends A Manhunt Near Stover

A two-day manhunt for two Alcoa Intermediate Reformatory escapees ended today in a wreck on a curve between Stover and Versailles.

The hunt began Thursday when Richard Beehan and Donald Ray Blood left the institution. The Highway Patrol and peace officers trailed the pair over Cole and Osage Counties, using the patrol dogs and plane. In the chase the pair reportedly stole several boats, two cars, slugged a 76-year-old man and took some money from him.

The pair was first spotted Thursday by a ferryman near St. Thomas, who turned the information over to the patrol. The dogs and plane were sent to the scene and the trail was followed. Near St. Elizabeth it was found the pair had slugged a 76-year-old farmer, named Heiman, and took his vehicle and some cash.

Here the trail was lost until Sheriff J. T. Hull of Morgan County, after hearing several reports of the pair being seen in boats on the Osage River, spotted Blood driving the car stolen from Heiman. He captured Blood, but Beehan escaped into the woods.

The sheriff's officers and patrolmen about noon Friday, while patrolling Highway 52 between Versailles and Stover, spotted Beehan driving another car he had stolen.

The officers gave chase, and Trooper Robert Cummings, stationed in the Warsaw area, ran the car down until it wrecked on a curve on a rural road just south of Highway 52, and made the capture of Beehan. Blood is serving a four-year term for burglary in Howell County, and Beehan is serving a four-year term for burglary in Jasper County.

18-Year-Old Sharon Brown

Louisiana Miss, Miss USA

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"My daddy will probably faint when he hears this," said Sharon Brown moments after she was crowned Miss U.S.A. "He thought I should improve my carriage. That's why I went to modeling school."

Roy Brown, a contractor, had not come to watch his daughter compete in the beauty pageant, and Sharon was anxious to break away from the well wishers to phone home the news.

"I think I'll call collect," she said and laughed through her tears at her joke.

The 18-year-old brunette from Minden, La., won the right Thursday night to represent the nation against 47 foreign entries for the Miss Universe title. The last 90 minutes of the two-day competition will be televised nationally Saturday night.

Sharon, at 5-feet-7, was one of the tallest of the 43 girls who competed in the Miss U.S.A. contest. At 36-23-36, she also was one of the most plentifully endowed.

She has been a model and beauty contest winner since February 1960 when she won the "Miss Stock Show" crown at Waterproof, then her home town. "The Rotary Club entered me," Sharon said. "I was a senior in high school. I won, but when the contest was over they told me not to enter another without some training. "My parents thought it would be a good idea; my father thought I didn't walk properly, so I was entered in a modeling school at Monroe. I drove the 100 miles every Tuesday after chemistry class."

The school paid off in two more beauty queen titles and several Miss Congeniality crowns. She also modeled in department stores and now she teaches at the modeling school where she received her training.

"I'd like to do some television commercials like opening refrigerators, but I'd probably get my thumb jammed in the door," she said. "I'm going to finish college first."

Sharon has just completed her freshman year at Louisiana Tech, where she is majoring in speech and drama. She expects her parents, and possibly her three younger brothers, to fly here for the Miss Universe judging.

A newsman asked her what she was going to do with the $1,000 she had won.

"What," she cried, "you mean I've won $1,000. I didn't read about that. I have no idea what I'll do with it."

Sharon was chosen to succeed Linda Bement of Salt Lake City, Utah, last year's Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe, from five girls who reached the finals.

No Salaries For Men On Unique Farm

PETALUMA, Calif. (AP)—They feed the cows white bread; they pay the farm hands nothing.

Need fathered these practices and the strange farm itself — the simple, stark need of empty stomachs aching for food. But the farm produces far more than food. Its richest return is in human spirit.

The farm hands, most of them, had taken an economic belting in San Francisco, 50 miles to the south. In comeback tries they'd met only closed doors, averted eyes and "sorry, no."

The reasons the men hit bottom? The bottle sometimes. Plain bad luck in many cases. They hadn't been in California long enough to qualify for official aid.

Father Alfred Boedeker, Franciscan priest who founded and directs St. Anthony's, says the farm grew from the needs of the dining room.

When a woman asked him to find someone to run a 10-acre farm five years ago, an inspiration hit Father Alfred. Why not buy the farm and raise food for the dining room?

"You've been a farmer?" the surprised woman asked. Father Alfred, born in San Francisco 57 years ago, has been a scholar — his studies included two years in Rome—a teacher, a pastor, never a farmer. But neither had he run a dining room before he was assigned to the St. Boniface parish in 1949.

So the farm was bought. "For a song," Father Alfred says without giving figures. It proved too small and its clay soil too poor to help much.

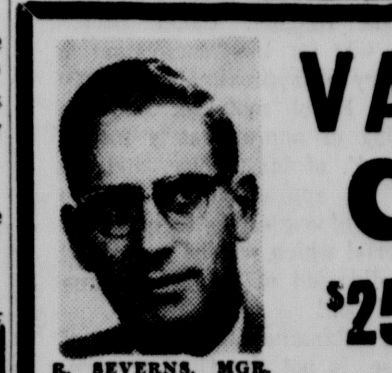

But Father Alfred still felt his idea was sound and the Franciscans bought a 65-acre ranch nearby "for another song, compared to its worth."

At the dining room, men often ask to go to the farm.

They go if there's an opening. They stay a day, a month, a year or much longer. To go or to stay is entirely their decision, and a ride back to the city is available almost daily on the farm supply truck.

The men get three meals a day, a bed, tobacco and personal necessities such as soap and razor

Holy Communion At Our Savior Church

Our Savior Lutheran Church will celebrate Holy Communion at the 9 a.m. service in Convention Hall Sunday. The Rev. Roland K. Lemke, pastor of the church, will speak on the theme: "Songs in the Night." The Walther League will leave from 906 West Broadway at 3 p.m. Sunday for the zone summer picnic at Immanuel Lutheran Church, North Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gerken will be host to the Sunday School staff Wednesday at 3 p.m. at their home on Route 1, LaMonte.

blades. Like the dining room, the farm has no fees, no questions, no sermons. And there is no salary for chores.

The seller of the larger farm, John Messer, stayed on at a salary to supervise the growing dairy herd, now 230 head including calves. There's also a paid foreman on each farm.

The cows, mostly Holsteins, are fed bread instead of bran mash. Why? Stale loaves hauled from city bakeries cost $24 a ton; bran runs about $74. The cows thrive and their production stays up.

Although every possible corner is cut, the farms still show a deficit, currently about $6,000. Father Alfred says hopefully the break-even point should be reached in another year or two.

But Father Alfred would rather talk about the farm's biggest payoff: new self-respect and another chance for the men.

The men on the farms get their problems into perspective and a new start as useful citizens, Father Alfred declares. "The alternative is government support of some kind. Jails or penitentiaries for some."

As their outlook brightens with the healthful living and quiet peace of the farms, they're supplied paper and stamps and encouraged to renew contacts with family, friends and former employers. Opportunities open.

Father Alfred says already 500 men have gone from the farms to outside jobs.

Problem Canvass Planned By Phone Company

Every telephone customer in Knob Noster will receive a post card from the telephone company in the next few days, asking for his comments and criticisms of his telephone service and the company that provides it, Pete Clow, Manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here said today.

Clow calls the project a post card canvass. "In making the canvass, we'll mail a double post card to each customer. The cards are to be mailed next Monday, so people will start receiving them about Tuesday or Wednesday. We hope that everyone will take a minute to fill out and return half of the card and mail it to me."

"We're not seeking complaints," the Manager points out. "If any of our customers have criticisms, we would like to know them. Comments like these help us give customers the kind of service they want."

Similar post card canvasses are planned for every town where Southwestern Bell operates. The

Caution Optimists On Polio Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service reports "a remarkably low level" of polio cases in the United States so far this year. But it cautions against overoptimism.

There were 237 polio cases in the first half of the year. There were about twice as many in the first half of 1960—469—and more than four times as many in the first half of 1959—1,026.

This is the time of year a distinct increase in cases is expected. Eighteen new cases—eight of them paralytic—were reported from 11 states for the week ended July 1.

purpose is to find out which customers have complaints so that the company can try to remove the causes of these complaints.

"That's our most important job; giving customers the kind of service they desire," Clow said. "We'll contact everyone who replies unfavorably and make every effort to clear the source of his dissatisfaction."

Entire Family Of Relatives Takes Vacation

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—When Harold D. Spencer, a retired New York printing executive, brought his family to Southern California for a vacation, he had to appoint one of them as "tour guide" to keep order.

The reason: Spencer and his wife Rachael had invited their five children and their spouses, plus 17 grandchildren. Also making the trip was the Spencers' houseman from their home at Clinton Corners, N.Y.

Twenty-eight of the group arrived in Los Angeles Thursday aboard the Santa Fe Super Chief. They filled one car and overlapped into a second. Two others, including Mrs. Spencer, came by plane.

They rendezvoused at a hotel which will be their headquarters here for the next 10 days while they travel to points of interest by chartered bus.

Spencer, 70, said of the trip: "We just thought it would be a good idea. The family hasn't all been together for a long time."

NO SUMMER SLUMP IN NEWSPAPERS

This summer, consumers in the United States—108,000,000 of them—will keep right on reading their daily newspapers every day. There will be no summer slump in newspaper readers.

Vacation time brings changes in living habits and reduces the audiences of other advertising media. But whether they're at the beach, on the patio, away on a trip or relaxing in the coolest room in the house, people consistently read their daily newspapers all year through.

Last year, retail sales in June and July totaled $37 billion; only 9% under the heavy volume November and December Christmas period. This year, in a nationwide survey*, more than 9 out of 10 retailers reported that they expect summer business to exceed, or at least equal, last year's. They expect no summer slump.

For maximum sales results during the growing summer selling season, advertise in daily newspapers and reach the biggest consumer audience in the United States.

Early Driving Lessons

Across the table sat a short, dark-eyed young man with ruddy face and smooth black hair. Listening to his rather deep voice made it hard to realize he was only 19 years old.

He was spouting politics like a veteran. His self-assured comment showed respect for the little nuances of human byplay, intrigue and strategy that go into political choices. He, dwell on men's prejudices, on the real wrongs and fancied slights that trouble them, on the bigger forces at work in party combat.

The broad setting was a southern state Republican nominating convention. Heedless of slim GOP chances in the fall, the lad had helped a near-dark horse enter a key race, and had dashed around to whip up support just before the big event. When someone asked who the candidate's floor manager was, a knowing finger pointed straight at the 19-year-old.

But he wasn't the only youngster on the scene. They were all over the place. Approaching another of these, a reporter asked: "Who's directing the front runner's floor campaign?" Said the young man: "I guess I am."

None of this meant, of course, that the older party politicians were abdicating position and influence. In their hotel rooms, they tugged on what they hoped were the important lines.

Yet nobody denied that without the first efforts of the 19-year-old, and his relatively young superior, the dark horse would not have won—as he did. It was also a fact that the front runner, whatever his crucial handicaps in the final test, got major benefit from the youthful energy expended in his behalf.

You could not watch these youngsters running about, trying to corral delegates' votes, sticking their forefingers in their elders' chests, without being heartened. For there is considerable evidence, from their participation in major campaigns, from their earnest struggling in their own party organizations, that youthful Americans are showing mounting interest in the political process.

These kids often were no mere spear-carriers. They were in the thick of it. And with some inevitable exceptions, they knew as much about what was going on as did their older counterparts.

The youngsters think of themselves as juniors practicing to be seniors—in real field trials. They expect to take over party management in the years just ahead. Sooner or later they will. And it's a good sign for the country that in so many places they are developing the interest and the skill to do just that.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Louisiana Solon Blocks Postage Hike

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Congressmen sometimes come to Washington with a big blare of trumpets, blow those trumpets hopefully for a time, then subside complacently into an obscure corner of Congress where, however, they exercise great power of obstruction. This obstruction never makes headlines but it makes them the darling of certain lobbies.

Such a congressman is Jimmy Morrison, genial, rotund representative of the "strawberry belt" of Louisiana and darling of the third-class mail lobby. Jimmy is their darling because he is the number one obstructor of increased postal rates — a measure which two Presidents, one Republican, the other Democratic, have asked for and which the post office, to balance its expenses, must have.

And because it is the Democrats more than the Republicans who are blocking the Kennedy Postal Bill, it might be interesting in this and further columns to take a close look at some of the characters who make up the diverse and divergent Democratic party.

Jimmy Morrison and his opposition to the Postal Bill are especially interesting because when he was running for governor some years ago he franked out to voters approximately one million pieces of mail — all at the taxpayers' expense. It cost them approximately $30,000.

Ordinarily, political mail of this kind is not permitted to be sent free. But the smiling Jimmy got around the law by enclosing in each envelope a copy of a Morrison speech, "Our War Heroes Deserve the Best." So the Post Office Department, which Morrison is now helping to block, finally ruled that the mailing of a congressman's speech, even when sent with a raw and unvarnished appeal for votes, was entitled to free mailing privileges.

Jimmy Morrison, despite all the help he got from the Post Office, lost that round—which some people considered lucky for the state of Louisiana, though it has been governed by worse. However, Jimmy has continued to sit, complacent, and of late inconspicuous, in the House of Representatives for nearly two decades and has gradually worked himself up to a position of seniority and power in the Post Office Committee.

Midget Kingfish

When Jimmy first arrived in Washington, shortly after Pearl Harbor, it was touted as another second coming from Louisiana. Jimmy was supposed to be another Huey Long. Instead of a Kingfish, however, he turned out to be a minnow.

One of Morrison's earliest achievements was to get spotted in the Little Red House on R Street where John Monroe, most brazen of all wartime lobbyists, held forth; and where he entertained such unsuspecting big shots as Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and the daughter of Admiral Ernie King, then Chief of Naval operations.

Congressman Morrison was a frequent diner at the Little Red House, and on one occasion was quite willing to sell the entire muskrat catch of Louisiana — which he obviously did not control — to a New York dealer in return for $25,000 for his campaign for governor.

The deal never went through, but Jimmy did get a lot of money to run for governor—from what source no one ever knew. It caused interesting speculation, due in part to the fact Jimmy had been sued by the Standard Oil Company for non-payment of $3,000 for gasoline from a previous campaign, and had trouble paying his hotel bill in Washington. Despite this, he was able to spend around $200,000 in his campaign.

Underworld Friends

Jimmy has not been without friends in Washington and Louisiana. They have been loyal and sometimes helpful. One friend has been Murray Olf, underworld lobbyist in Washington who maintained an apartment at the Congressional Hotel where the Congressman from Louisiana used to attend shrimp suppers. There, also, famed racketeer Joe Adonis of Chicago hid out one night — though Jimmy was not present. From this apartment, phone calls were traced to such chiefs of the underworld as "Dandy Phil" Kastell of New Orleans and "Greasy Thumb" Jake Guzik of Chicago.

This friendship with Murray Olf may explain the interesting fact that Morrison introduced several private bills in Congress to permit Silvestro Carollo to remain in the United States despite his record of three convictions for bootlegging, narcotics, and attempted murder.

Another interesting friend of the genial Congressman from the strawberry belt was William Baldwin Shearer, who got $40,000 from Bethlehem Steel, Newport News shipbuilding, and other shippers for lobbying to break up the Coolidge Naval Conference. Shearer was one of the friends reported to have kept Jimmy supplied with campaign funds.

The smiling Jimmy still smiles, despite what his critics say about him. He has a hide as tough as the Louisiana steers that graze along the highways of his state. He has settled down to a cozy place in Congress from which nothing will dislodge him short of national calamity, and the third-class mailing lobby finds him a very obliging friend.

Full Citizenship

The Menominee Indians in Wisconsin were the first American Indian Tribe to be put on their own as a political unit, when they became Wisconsin's seventy-second county recently. The three hundred and sixty-five thousand acre area carved out in negotiations by Chief Oshkosh in 1954 has been welcomed as Menominee County and the Federal government has given up jurisdiction over the reservation.

The land has been given back to the Indians and their freedom has been celebrated in the two towns of Keshena and Neopit.

Most of the Menominee Indians work in lumber mills whose products of mixed pine and hardwoods total about two million dollars annually. In addition the new county has valuable recreational resources in its eighty-two lakes and trout streams. It is expected that the area will now be developed for tourists.

It is gratifying that the rights of full citizenship have been given to a few of America's first citizens.

Russia's Bloodbank

The Russians are not wasteful. At a time when human blood is a lifesaver for the living, the Russians are collecting blood from the dead. All sudden deaths in the area are brought to the Swiflovosky Blood Institute in Moscow under law.

A Denver physician who visited the Institute has described the practice in the quarterly Journal of the Frying Physicians Association. He wrote that from two to four liters of blood was obtained from one human cadaver.

At the Institute the blood is preserved with sugar, water and antibiotics and there are no anticoagulants, since blood after sudden death does not clot. The authorities there have found that blood could be taken six hours after death and could be stored for five days. It is cultured, typed and must be cross-matched before use.

Perhaps some large city hospitals, where deaths from violence frequently occur and bodies are often unclaimed or where permission is given by the family, could employ this service and save many lives which now are lost through lack of available blood.

The West Begins to Belt Khrushchev

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suddenly the West is beginning to belt Premier Khrushchev, gag him on his own words, put him on the defensive. It's a switch. He's been doing the pitching, the West the catching.

If this is a put-up job — agreement between Western allies to turn the tables — this writer hasn't been able to nail it down. But they've conferred steadily on this Berlin rumpus. Now together they're potshotting him.

For weeks he's acted like a loudmouth, threatening to push the Allies out of West Berlin, bragging of Soviet power. It's kept the Allies jittery, defensive, apparently uncertain how to handle him.

Then this week the blasts from French President Charles De Gaulle, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Lincoln White, State Department press officer and spokesman, and even Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat.

De Gaulle, who doesn't talk often, said the West won't let the Soviets settle Berlin's fate by themselves, warned they'll be responsible for any "grave consequences" of a Berlin crisis.

Refugees from Communist East Germany are fleeing into West Berlin at the rate of 1,000 a day. Adenauer said it "proves conditions over there have become unbearable" and a "panic seems to have broken out."

This kind of psychological assault can't help but hurt Khrushchev with satellites and neutrals.

Major cause for the refugee flight seems to be food shortages — for instance, in potatoes and butter — and stepped-up Red pressure upon the East Germans to support communism more actively.

Khrushchev, in his finagling on Berlin, called for signing separate peace treaties with West and East Germany, an unthinkable situation for Adenauer, who wants a single, unified Germany. But Adenauer's Bonn government used this against Khrushchev, with a twist to hurt.

It pointed out that the Soviet Union, in joining the United Nations, had agreed to the principle that all peoples should have the right to determine their own future. West Germany called on Khrushchev to live up to the pledge, told him:

Sign a peace treaty with a single German government elected by all Germans, East and West. Since letting the East Germans vote on a single German government is the last thing Khrushchev wants, he won't permit it.

But it was good propaganda against him. Rusk put the whole blame for present world jitters on Communism, said, "The underlying crisis of our generation arises from the fact that the Soviet Union did not join the United Nations in fact as well as in form. The possession of power has transformed it to ambition for more power."

Humphrey hit Khrushchev a lick which must hurt around the world, raise suspicions of Soviet successes. He said Khrushchev was plagued by food shortages of staggering proportions. He said entire Communist empire is on short rations.

The United States accused the Communist East German regime of violating religious liberty by trying to split the Evangelical Church, which exists in both Germany.

White said the purpose is to wreck the church, asked, "Is this the kind of freedom the Soviets desire to extend to 2 1/4 million West Berliners through their so-called 'free city' proposals?"

The State Department denounced the East German Communists for denying the right of the Germans who live under them but work in West Berlin to buy various household goods.

Headache Crops Appear To Be Beautifully Matched

By Robert E. Hennessee
DPA's Special Service

WASHINGTON — Taxpayers have reason to rejoice about agriculture, which for over a decade has been their biggest single domestic headache.

The outlook for this year's harvest is just what former Secretary Ezra Taft Benson kept ordering (and predicting) each year. But for him there was no such blessing.

The headache crops of corn, wheat, cotton and soybeans appear at this stage to be beautifully matched with what we will use, and there are prospects of lowering somewhat our surplus stocks of wheat and corn.

The mid-July estimate by the Department of Agriculture on this year's feed corn production is 3.2 billion bushels — or a lovely 18 per cent below last year's monstrous 3.9 billion.

This 700,000,000 bushel reduction in corn grown for feed purposes can be attributed primarily to the new corn control program which went into effect in March and really wasn't expected to achieve very much. It is no secret that the program's success has surprised even Secretary Orville Freeman, its chief advocate.

Barring some unusual celestial communication, which doesn't seem too likely, the Democrats cannot claim very much credit for the rosy wheat outlook.

For the first time in longer than taxpayers care to remember, the total wheat production this year probably will be considerable below what we will use. One big factor here is the drought in the Dakotas.

Lack of rain in the upper Plains is expected to drop this year's spring wheat crop some 50 million bushels below the already-trimmed estimates of 222 million given out only a month ago.

The total wheat crop should be only about 1.3 billion bushels.

Agriculture officials say that 1961 production of both cotton and the wonder crop, soybeans, will be in line with needs; and they believe Uncle Sam will be able

by
JAMES E. POLLARD

UNCLE SAM, TOO

Much has been made in this series of Little Chats on public notice, or legal advertising, of the fact that the 50 states have thousands of such requirements. But so does Uncle Sam, too, in a great variety of ways. This is particularly true of government contracts.

Some time ago, for example, a Boston newspaper carried a notice advertising that sealed bids would be received by the "Engineering and Construction Director, Panama Canal Company, Balboa Heights, Canal Zone." This was for the "excavation in the dry of approximately 250,000 of L. F. of material, and the drilling of approximately 200,000 of L. F. of blast holes, and the use of approximately 400,000 pounds of explosives to break up material which will be excavated and disposed of by the Panama Canal Co."

The Panama Canal Co., of course, is not the U. S. government. But the canal and the company that operates it are under government control and the canal, in effect, is government property.

Here, in short, was an advertisement appearing five times in a newspaper several thousand miles from the scene of the large scale excavation project for an arm of the federal government. The principle of notice is the same whether for a local or even a personal matter or for the national government. And the newspaper of paid general circulation renders a public legal service in publishing such notices.

Does That Second Income Really Achieve Your Goal

By FAYE HENLE

Can you afford that second job? According to latest figures, some 2.5 million men are "moonlighting" and 24 million women now are working, many to supplement their husband's take-home pay.

How often, I wonder, have these men and women figured what the extra job costs them and appraised whether it is truly worth while? Here is a formula to follow.

List all expenses connected with the second job — transportation, extra meals, necessary clothing, perhaps union dues. Women should include what they spend for child care, extra household help, the laundry they now must send out, the thoughtless costly food buying, the extra services they buy because "they are working." Make these estimates high and total them.

Next figure the tax bracket that the extra income puts you in. How importantly will Uncle Sam figure as a partner? For example, if one income puts you in the 22 per cent federal income tax bracket, you'll wind up keeping less than 78 cents out of each additional dollar earned. And don't forget state income taxes.

Add these costs to the expenses created by the second job and deduct the total from your second income. Does the second job now seem as worth while from a dollars-and-cents standpoint?

Next appraise your family life. Are mom and pop spending precious hours away from home. How disruptive is the schedule to either or both?

If you now discover that your second job does not produce even half the income you believed it did, or that it disrupts your family life, consider whether the added income and disruption are worth-while. Ask yourself what lured you to seek that second income in the first place.

If you probe, you may discover that it was caused by some mismanagement of your primary income. You may be living beyond your means; you may be too heavily in debt or too wasteful of your resources.

The best money management guide for the individual and family that has come my way recently is John L. Springer's book, "Make the Most of Your Income," published by Prentice-Hall. It is from this book that I have gleaned the information to show you how to figure whether you really need that second income.

If you are bent on continuing the second income make certain you are achieving a goal thereby. For instance, Springer's book suggests that if a husband and wife both work they should try to meet their regular expenses on his income and deposit the wife's earnings, minus the expense of her work, in a savings account to use for major purchases. If this is done, the income is not dribbled away, and should she give up working, the family will not have to make drastic changes in their day-to-day living.

The Doctor Says

Steps in the Prevention Of Mold, Fungus Nuisances

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In a preceding column, I pointed out the uselessness of trying to prevent ringworm, dishpan hands and related disturbances by application of mold and fungus killers (mycicides and fungicides).

One eminent authority on skin diseases (Sulzberger) has gone so far as to write that popularly used preparations are "largely useless," even when they do not produce a "treatment dermatitis" of greater severity than the disturbance for which they were prescribed.

I also emphasized that prevention and cure were only possible if causative micro-organisms were deprived of the diet of skin peeling and fluids (mostly sweat) on which they are able to thrive and reproduce.

If you are mindful of these principles, here in detail are the steps you can take to prevent initial infections and later recurrences:

Bathe daily, preferably on arising each morning.

Dry thoroughly, especially those areas covered by hair (armpits, chest, pubis) and wherever skin surfaces come in contact (between fingers and toes, in crotch, beneath breasts, in belly "wrinkles" if obese).

After drying, apply to contact areas a nonmedicated, nonscented talcum powder. Remove excess with powder puff to prevent caking.

If necessary, separate contact areas with dress shields, suspensory or wisps of cotton or cotton wool.

Carefully choose footwear so as to avoid compression from tight fitting, wrinkles from loose fittings and failure of evaporation from impermeability. Prefer socks or stockings of cotton or broad mesh nylon and shoes with open or perforated tips.

Before retiring, sponge, dry and powder crucial areas.

Shampoo scalp at least twice weekly.

Dry hands thoroughly after kitchen chores. At first sign of "dishpan hands," protect with disposable plastic gloves and a coating of a water repellent preparation (such as Silicare) or any other product containing dimethicone.

In another column I'll suggest a plan for self-treatment and indicate conditions under which consultation with your physician is advisable.

Will we ever have a national flower? In 1955 Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton introduced resolutions in Congress proposing the rose as U.S. national flower. According to the resolutions, Americans prefer the rose by a margin of 18 to 1. Despite this overwhelming statistic, no action was taken.

RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER: The Modern Church Choir. — The old-fashioned catch-as-catch-can church choir is in limbo with the mourner's bench. Practically every church in every small town has a professional organist and choir director, who is called the "Minister of Music." Anything from Charles Wesley to Bach is rendered with delicacy, precision and finesse.

Gone forever is the old-timey anthem that seemed to have been arranged on the spot and orchestrated as it proceeded to a powerful crescendo that evaporated from sheer exhaustion. Sedate Miss Sallie no longer turns automatically from her dress shop to trill her bird-like notes almost spontaneously. Nor does Mr. Hotchkiss, the butcher, fold his apron late Saturday night and get the kinks from his enormous basso as he walks homeward musically. The local choir is better organized than the C.I.O. and drills harder than a Wallace Wade football team, when the gallant colonel was in his prime.

Mechanical Failures Caused Crash

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—One or possibly more mechanical failures caused the crash of a United Air Lines DC8 in which 17 persons perished last Tuesday, United President W. A. Patterson said Thursday.

But never until the moment of the runway crash did the plane's pilot, Capt. John Grosso, consider that danger was imminent.

Patterson made these points at a news conference where he discussed at length reports that the plane's hydraulic system failed during the Philadelphia-to-Los Angeles flight.

He said the pilot noted fluctuating pressure in the hydraulic system 35 minutes before the scheduled landing at Stapleton Airfield. But he added: "That is not abnormal. It happens on all airplanes."

"The captain had no feeling whatsoever that he was about to do anything hazardous," Patterson said. "If he had thought there was any unusual hazard, he would have gone to Lawry Air Base."

This air base, equipped with extensive crash and fire-fighting apparatus, is about a mile and a half south of Stapleton.

Even as Patterson addressed newsmen here, the Federal Aviation Agency in Washington moved to tighten regulations covering emergency operation of hydraulic systems on DC8 jet airliners.

Chemical Firm Board Chairman Dies In London

LONDON (AP)—Lord McGowan, who rose from office boy to chairman of the board of the giant Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., died in a London hospital during the night.

McGowan, 87, started work at a salary of five shillings—then about $1.25—a week. When he retired in 1950, he was earning 55,000 pounds ($154,000) a year, as head of the British Commonwealth's biggest industrial complex.

He had been honorary president of the company since his retirement.

McGowan came from a Glasgow working class family and began work with Alfred Nobel's explosive company, which ultimately became a part of ICI. He was made a knight for his services in World War I and was created a baron in 1937.

His title now goes to his elder son, Harry Wilson McGowan, 53. He also leaves a younger son and two daughters. His wife died in 1952.

McGowan had been hospitalized for the past six weeks. The cause of death was not announced.

Dr. J. Salk Speaks Out Against AMA

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who developed the first effective vaccine against poliomyelitis, says the American Medical Association has failed "to acknowledge scientific facts" in recommending a changeover to a new type of vaccine.

Salk told a news conference Thursday the AMA had blindly followed "old medical dogma" in urging at its convention June 28 that a live-virus type vaccine not yet developed be substituted eventually for his vaccine.

The Salk vaccine uses dead virus to give immunity to polio. It is administered in three injections. Another type of vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati makes use of live virus in a solution that would be administered orally. The Sabin vaccine is expected to be cleared for use later this year.

The AMA's June 28 action called for mass vaccination with live vaccine when it becomes available, including revaccination with live vaccine of persons who had already received Salk shots.

Salk told the news conference he was not implying any competition between the vaccines—for which neither he nor Dr. Sabin collects any royalties—nor was he saying that the Sabin vaccine is not effective.

But Salk said he saw no reason for revaccinating everybody with the new vaccine, and he suggested that his own vaccine had set up a new principle that could eventually lead to a single vaccine that would grant immunity to up to 100 diseases.

Had the AMA shown the same enthusiasm for mass administration of the Salk vaccine that it is now showing for the live virus vaccine, Salk said, polio in this country would be virtually eliminated.

Why has the AMA favored the live vaccine?

Salk laid it out what he termed "old medical dogma," which holds that live vaccines are better than dead ones. He said the dogma got started partly because live vaccines were the first ones ever used, as against smallpox and yellow fever.

He said he was taking issue with the AMA "for adopting as official a medical dogma that can no longer be maintained in the light of scientific study and application in practice."

The AMA in Chicago issued a reply to the Salk critique, saying the Pittsburgh scientist had misinterpreted the AMA's report and adding:

"The report's first recommendation was: 'Physicians should encourage, support and expand the use of Salk vaccine on the widest possible scale at least until the oral polio virus vaccines currently under development and clinical trial become available. All individuals below the age of 50 should be protected with Salk vaccine.'"

"Regarding oral vaccines, the AMA discharged its obligation to physicians and to the public by informing them of the latest evaluation of the impending availability and effectiveness of oral vaccine."

The AMA based its recommendation for a wide mass vaccination program when the live vaccine becomes available "on an exhaustive study of all scientific evidence presently available," the statement said.

England Swept By High Wind Gusts Thursday

LONDON (AP)—High winds swept England Thursday with these results:

A powerful gust blew 250 pounds ($700) out of a man's billfold at Torquay as he was buying tickets at a seafont theater. All but 15 pounds ($42) were recovered.

An 80-mile gale blew down three refreshment tents at the Birkdale golf course, in Southport, where the British Open Championship is being played. Damage was estimated at 20,000 pounds ($56,000). The tents were ripped to shreds, kitchen equipment, crockery and hundreds of bottles of beer and liquor smashed.

Marriage Plans Are Denied For Big Time Hood

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mickey Cohen's lawyer says the government has denied his client permission to get married while he's in federal custody.

Cohen, once a bigtime bookie, is under a 15-year prison sentence for income tax evasion.

He and Sandra Hagen, 22, a blonde model, have said they like to marry. But Jack Dahstrum, Cohen's attorney, disclosed Thursday that Director James Benetaz, U.S. Bureau of Prisons, denied their request because it was "contrary to established policies."

The State of Missouri, for M. E. Morris, director of revenue, has filed petitions to recover a total of $1,243.20 in delinquent sales taxes from Terry Files, operator of the Files Cafe in LaMonte.

One petition covers the period of July 1, 1958 to June 30, 1959, and one petition covers the period of July 1, 1957 to June 30, 1958. Each petition claims Files owes the State a total of $621.60 in delinquent sales taxes and penalties for the period covered.

Sandra June Crowley filed a petition for $75,000 damages against Henry Albert Gerkin in Circuit Court July 14. She alleges she was injured in that amount in an auto accident at the junction of Highway 50 and Route J in Johnson County Jan. 7, 1961.

Watering Tank Contains Part Of Nike Rocket

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Army is trying to learn how a rancher happened to buy a surplus storage tank that contained part of a Nike Ajax missile.

The rancher, H. E. Blythe of Paso Robles, Calif., would like to learn the answer too.

He bought the tank—used for missile storage and shipment—from the Ideal Metal and Salvage Co. of nearby Culver City. The company said it bought 50 tanks from the Douglas Aircraft Co., which couldn't shed any light on the matter either.

Blythe intended to use it as a water tank. Inside he found the airframe section of the missile.

He called the Army, which rushed demolition experts to his ranch.

Investigators said the missile section was harmless and contained no warhead, no fins and no electrical components and that there was no danger of classified information being disclosed.

Missionaries Charge Portuguese With Angolan Atrocities

Auction Set For Saturday By Kiwanis

The Sedalia Kiwanis club will hold its annual auction at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the courthouse parking lot, Louis R. Hughes Jr., chairman, announced to fellow club members at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Committee activities are already underway, Hughes stated, preliminary to handing out assignments to all members to produce articles for sale at the auction which will be conducted by Col. Olen Downs, auctioneer. Arrangements for collection of these articles are to be reported to Bill Dugan, pickup chairman.

This year proceeds from the auction will be used to establish a fund to aid worthy students in furthering their education, the chairman reported.

The principal speaker Thursday was Judge Thomas Woolsey, Booneville, past lieutenant governor, whose subject was, "Presidents of the United States," who pointed out pertinent data about the lives of each president and what these dedicated men had contributed to the welfare of their country.

Judge Woolsey was introduced by Gordon Childers, program chairman.

Lt. Governor C. O. Putnam, of California, gave a short talk on district club activities and congratulated the local organization on their achievement standing in the district.

Past President John Ryan presided in the absence of President William Schien, and congratulated Wes Bunce on the arrival of a new son in his family.

Invocation was by C. L. Hanley, singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Miss Mildred Reed, accompanist.

Raymond H. Ivens, manager of Patterson's, was introduced as a new member by Louis Hughes.

Guests were: Kiwanian Elmer E. Sterling, Gallup, N.M., former secretary of the local club, who with Mrs. Sterling are Sedalia visitors; Arthur Sherman, St. Louis, who with his wife are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Rosenthal.

Year Since Boy Left On Fateful Hike

GRANADA HILLS, Calif. (AP)—It's a year now since Bruce Kremen, 8, set out enthusiastically on a YMCA hike from which he never returned.

The youngster disappeared in the vast reaches of the nearby Angeles National Forest, where three other children have vanished in recent years.

But his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kremen of Granada Hills, have clung to the hope that somehow he may still be alive.

"We haven't lived a normal day since Bruce's disappearance, but we are sure someday he will rejoin us," said Mrs. Kremen.

The Kremens, parents of another child, Jeffrey, 13, believe their younger son was kidnapped.

"What else can we believe when no other clues were uncovered in a year's time?" the mother asked.

Bruce, whose ninth birthday is July 21, was reported missing by YMCA officials July 13, 1960.

He was last seen by two companions on a trail about half a mile from the Buckhorn Flats area after the three boys decided to leave their group and return to camp.

Capt. C. D. Fontaine, commanding officer of the Los Angeles County sheriff's juvenile bureau, said more man-hours have been spent on Bruce's case than on any other lost person in this state.

An 11-day search, including volunteers, was called off after no clues were found last July.

"We have sent crews back many times," Fontaine said, "but it's just like the three other unsolved cases in the forest."

The reference was to Brenda Howell and Donnie Baker, youngsters who rode their bicycles into the forest in August of 1956, and never returned; and to Tommy Bowman, who disappeared while hiking with his father a year later.

The forest, mountainous and heavily wooded, covers 691,052 acres.

China Film Censors Lift Ban On Kisses

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's movie censor faced the facts of life today and lifted the longtime ban on kissing scenes in Chinese films—if they are an expression of true love.

In the past the censor has cut kissing scenes from Chinese films as "objectionable demonstrations of affection." But chief censor Tu Yi-fang now has decided that "kissing and embracing are conventional expressions of love in actual life."

The ban has not applied to American and European movies.

'No' to Cut In Wages At Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—A proposal by Chrysler Corp. that wages and salaries be reduced in certain job classifications was presented to the United Auto Workers union today.

It marked the first management-proposal made by a member of the Big Three since new contract talks began.

Chrysler proposed that wages be reduced for future employees at its six defense plants in order to keep pay scales competitive. It also proposed reducing starting salaries for office and engineering workers on grounds such salaries currently are higher than those at competitors.

Norman Matthews, UAW vice president and director of its Chrysler Department, replied "my answer is a flat 'no' to both of them. These are proposals for wage cuts and I have absolutely no enthusiasm for wage cuts."

"These proposals destroy all the UAW has fought for all these years. We have fought for equal pay for equal work."

A Chrysler spokesman replied that "in some wage areas our minimums are higher than other companies, minimums."

The spokesman said no wage cuts would result but that employees hired in the future would get a pay rate "comparable to similar jobs in other companies."

Chrysler employees some 6,800 at its defense plants in Warren and Sterling Township, Mich.; Newark, Del.; Scranton, Pa.; Huntsville, Ala., and Coca Beach, Fla.

The UAW today presented General Motors the same demands for higher levels of pension benefits it gave Ford earlier this week.

The union also proposed optional retirement at age 60. It said this would help create job opportunities for GM workers.

The proposal also included demands for survivor benefits for the widow of a pensioner and investment of portions of the pension fund in community and housing projects in areas where GM has plants.

After nearly 2 1/2 weeks of bargaining, the UAW and the auto companies have come to grips on issues that could lead to a strike in the auto industry if they aren't settled by the end of next month.

Pension Rite Received From $1.65 Payment

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The $1.65 which Vernon Mayes of Lawrenceburg contributed to the State Employees Retirement System apparently makes him eligible for a minimum $480 yearly pension.

The attorney general's office said Thursday Mayes was eligible for retirement the day he started to work because he was then over 75.

Mayes was employed as Senate cloakroom keeper at $12 daily during a five-day special legislative session last year. Since he holds office until he resigns or the 1962 Legislature names a successor, Mayes has not drawn or applied for a pension.

In Home Run Record

Mantle, Maris Nearing Ruth

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

No longer can anyone take lightly the twin challenge of Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle for the most coveted of Babe Ruth's records—his 60 home runs in 1927.

The Yankees' boys each homered Thursday night in New York's 6-2 triumph over Chicago. The victory boosted the Yankees into first place by four percentage points over idle Detroit in the red-hot American League race.

Maris now has 34 in 84 games and Mantle 30. When Ruth hit his 60, he didn't pick up his 34th until his team's 98th game. Mantle is exactly even with the Babe's

NCAA Active In Battle To Cut Gambling

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association is anything but idle in the battle to stamp out gambling and bribery in sports.

Walt Byers, executive director of the NCAA who is attending the meeting of the National Association of College Commissioners, said he wants to make it clear the NCAA is doing something, and that the first thing everyone wants to do is to push federal legislation.

"The NCAA council asked for federal legislation five years ago," Byers said, "but nothing came of it."

Byers added that full questionnaires have been sent out to each boy who took money in the basketball scandal.

The questions concern his high school record, college record, family background, financial status, his explanation of why he did it and other pertinent factors. Appraisal by deans and coaches' evaluations also are being sought, as well as the schools' explanation of the incident.

In this way, Byers said, it is hoped to find some common denominator that might disclose why the boy sold out to the gamblers.

The commissioners continued their discussion of the scandal problem today after all-day consideration Thursday behind closed doors.

The Merchants have a neat 9-1 record for home games. Their one loss was to Stockton, 1958 state champions.

The Yankees routed veteran Early Wynn with a four-run blast in the first inning.

In other AL games, Minnesota defeated Cleveland 9-6 and Boston nipped Baltimore 3-2. Rain postponed the game in Washington between the Kansas City Athletics and Senators. Los Angeles and the Tigers were idle.

In the National League, Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs 4-3. The Dodgers routed the Philadelphia Phillies 7½-4. San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 2-1, and Milwaukee downed St. Louis 6-3.

The Twins finally gained revenge on their chief tormentor, Cleveland's Jim Grant. They bombed the Indians right-hander with three home runs to beat him for the first time this season. Ted Lepcio rocked Grant with a grand-slammer in the first inning and Harmon Killebrew and Jim Lemon also homered.

A spectacular all-around performance by Boston's Carl Yastrzemski helped Red Sox rookie Don Schwall beat Baltimore for his eighth triumph in 10 decisions. The rookie outfielder singled in the fourth and raced home on a double by Jim Pagliaroni. Jackie Jensen singled Pagliaroni home.

Want Al Lopez Back Next Year With White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Both owner Arthur Allyn and front office chief Hank Greenberg want Manager Al Lopez back next year as pilot of the Chicago White Sox.

Lopez was quoted by a Tampa, Fla., newspaperman after the All-Star baseball game as saying he might retire managing after the 1961 season.

However, upon his return to Chicago Thursday he said: "I didn't tell him I was going to quit. He (Ralph Warner) just had a feeling that I was. It simply was his interpretation."

Allyn, in Miami Beach, said Thursday he had not yet talked with Lopez about the 1962 season.

"I hope Lopez will be back as manager next year," Allyn said. "I am very satisfied with him."

Said Greenberg: "Even if we were to move the franchise to the moon, we'd want Lopez to run the club."

Greenberg hastened to add there is no move intended either to the moon or anywhere else.

Roscoe White Dies

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—Roscoe White, 19-year-old Negro basketball star who led Moberly Junior College to conference and regional championship last winter, died at the home of his parents in Slater, Mo., Thursday.

White scored 674 points last winter, a single season record at Moberly JC.

Draw Most Positions On By Squads

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—Hannibal, Richmond and Lowry City drew a majority of positions on the North and South teams chosen for the Central Missouri Baseball League's 12th annual All-Star game Tuesday night at Boonville.

Lowry City, undefeated leader of the league's Central Division, filled six positions on the South squad. Hannibal, the Eastern Division pacesetter, and Richmond, second place club in the Western Division, each landed five players on the North team.

The league used U. S. 40 as a dividing line and assigned All-Star choice after a poll of managers.

Players from Hannibal, Mexico, Moberly, Carrollton, Richmond, Lexington and Marshall comprise the North squad. Players on the South team represent Lowry City, Jefferson City, Tipton, Sedalia, Columbia, Boonville, Sweet Springs and Odessa. Every league club is represented.

Richmond's Paul O'Dell was voted the starting mound assignment from the North and Columbia's Ron Sieck earned the distinction for the South.

Doug Scholten of Carrollton, Chick Walters and Tom Hightower of Marshall comprise the North squad mound brigade, along with O'Dell, Jim Smith and Bob Tompkins of Lowry City and Keith Weber of Jefferson City join Sieck on the South staff.

Arthur Scheiner, who led Moberly to a second straight league championship in 1960, will manage the north team. Roy Barns, Lowry City pilot whose team was runner-up last season, will lead the South.

The starting lineups:

North — Keith Wall, Richmond, 1st base; Carroll McDannold, Hannibal, 2nd base; Jerry Sanders, Hannibal, 3rd base; Harold Hughes, Marshall, shortstop; Jack Embree, Richmond, Bob Widmer, Moberly and Lars Harris, Hannibal, outfielders; Dave Ford, Moberly, catcher and O'Dell of Richmond, pitcher.

Dan Devine Predicts Lower Rung for MU

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Coach Dan Devine of Missouri Thursday classified Big Eight football teams in two echelons and predicted Missouri would slip into the lower group in the 1961 season.

Speaking to summer session students, Devine said the teams with the most power this fall will be Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Nebraska.

He said all of them have a lot of transfer students and red shirts (players who were eligible but withheld from competition last year) and should be loaded.

"In the lower echelon will be Iowa State, Oklahoma State, Kansas State and Missouri," he added, "but each of them is strong enough to knock off any of the top-flighters on any given Saturday afternoon."

Devine said he expected Ron Taylor to do most of the signaling for the Tigers this year. Taylor quarterbacked Missouri to the Big Eight and Orange Bowl championships last season.

Robinson Is Hottest Hitter

Look to Left Field For Redlegs' Success

By JOE REICHLER

Wonder why the Cincinnati Reds are in first place in the National League today, boasting a handsome five-game lead over runner-up Los Angeles?

"Don't look any further than left field in Cincinnati's Crosley Field, where Frank Robinson is stationed. The Reds' cleanup man is the hottest hitter in baseball."

On June 15, the Reds were in second place behind the Dodgers. Since then, they have won 20 of 27, including Thursday night's 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs. In those 27 games, Robinson collected 41 hits in 96 times at bat to zoom his batting average from .274 to .327. In less than a month,

Braves Spoil Keane's Debut In St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hometown debut of new St. Louis Cardinal Manager John Keane was spoiled by Milwaukee Thursday night as the Braves downed the Cards 6-3.

Carl Willey pitched a shining relief game and Joe Adcock hit a two-run homer in breaking a three-game losing streak for the Braves.

Braves triumphs in St. Louis are getting to be an old story. This was the sixth in a row.

Brightest spot for the Cardinals was rookie Tim McCarver's home run, his first in the major leagues. They scored their other two in the fourth on Charley James' single, Don Taussig's triple and Bob Lillis single.

The Cardinals threatened Willey in the seventh as Joe Cunningham hit a pinch single and Lillis followed up with a single. But Willey set down the next three.

The Braves scored three runs in the second off starter and loser Bob Gibson, now 6-6. Willey gave a 3-3 record.

The Kansas City Athletics were rained out at Washington.

In the seventh inning Thursday night, he hammered his 24th home run to tie the score at 3-3 and in the ninth he drove in the winning run.

The Dodgers whipped Philadelphia for the 10th straight time, 7-2. San Francisco climbed to within two percentage points of third-place Pittsburgh with a 2-1 triumph over the Pirates and Milwaukee downed St. Louis 6-3.

In the American League, the Yankees took over the top spot from idle Detroit by defeating the Chicago White Sox 6-2. Minnesota won its first of the season from Cleveland 9-6 and Boston beat Baltimore 3-2.

Jim O'Toole, the Reds' winning pitcher, blew a 2-0 lead before Robinson went to work. Robbie's homer was hit off loser Don Cardwell.

A six-run outburst in the fourth inning against Art Mahaffey of the Phils enabled the Dodgers to overcome a 2-0 deficit. Winning pitcher Stan Williams led the rally with a base-clearing double.

Willie Mays' eighth-inning homer off loser Bob Friend gave the Giants' Stu Miller his seventh victory.

Veteran Joe Adcock and rookie Mack Jones paced a 13-hit Milwaukee attack against three Cardinal pitchers. Adcock walloped his 15th home run, off loser Bob Gibson, with a man on base.

Jones, playing his first game for the Braves, cracked four hits in five times at bat.

Rains Halt Play

Final Rounds Saturday In British Open

Palmer Poised Stroke Behind Henning, Rees

BIRKDALE, England (AP) — Torrential rain washed out all play in the British Open Golf Tournament today. The tourney had been scheduled to finish with two rounds.

It was planned to play the final two rounds Saturday — if the weather improves.

Meanwhile, all scores by this morning's early starters were scrapped, leaving the players to begin afresh when conditions would permit.

Brig. Gen. Eric Brickman, secretary of the championship committee, said that if play proved to be impossible today, two rounds would be played Saturday.

Arnold Palmer, the American hope, was poised one stroke off the lead.

Palmer, 29-year-old pro from Latrobe, Pa., shared a 143 spot with Kel Nagle, the Aussie who beat him in the 1960 British Open.

In front of them at 142 were Harold Henning of South Africa and Dai Rees of Wales.

The crowd naturally is hoping Rees can become the first Briton to win the Open in 10 years.

But, patriotism apart, the galleries are pulling for Palmer almost as much as they are pulling for Rees. Palmer has picked up fans with his friendly and easy-going manner as well as the shattering skill that marks his golf.

The crowd loved the way Palmer came off the home green with a look of worry Thursday and told a 7-year-old fan raising an autograph book, "Stay right there, sonny. I've got something important to do first."

What Palmer had to do was confer with the championship officials on whether he should take a penalty stroke for hitting a ball that moved in a sand trap as he made his down swing on the 16th hole.

After a 15-minute consultation, officials announced Palmer had to suffer a penalty stroke. That gave him a seven instead of a six for that hole, and knocked him out of a tie for the lead.

The only other U.S. entry among the 48 golfers who went into the last two rounds over the 6,844-yard, par 36-72 course was Paul Runyan, 52, of La Jolla, Calif.

Runyan had 152 — two strokes behind Gary Player, the 25-year-old South African who was a pre-tourney favorite to fight it out with Palmer for the title.

Police Probe Stabbing Of Ex-Jailbird

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Police questioned a 28-year-old former roommate of Gus (Gussie) Nigro Thursday night in connection with the slaying of the 61-year-old former convict.

Nigro, who had served six prison terms, was found stabbed to death Thursday morning in his room in a North End hotel.

Police said robbery apparently was the motive. Nigro's billfold was missing.

Since his release from the Missouri penitentiary last year Nigro had been working as a vegetable huckster.

Detectives said Nigro's former roommate told them he had been with the victim Wednesday afternoon and they each had two or three beers. He denied any knowledge of the crime.

Police also were looking for a man and woman who visited Nigro's room some time after 9 o'clock Wednesday night.

Angel Martinez, 50, who lives at the hotel, told officers two men and a woman entered the hotel and asked for Nigro's room number. He said one man stayed in the lobby while the other man and the woman went to the room. He said they stayed

Miss Donna J. Long Exchanges Vows With Mr. Lee R. Freese

At eleven o'clock in the morning Saturday, June 17, Miss Donna Joyce Long, daughter of Mrs. Donald R. Fischer, 821 West Tenth, exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Lee Roy Freese, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Freese, 920 West Second, at Sacred Heart Church. The Rev. Francis Laudick read the double ring ceremony during the nuptial mass.

The altar was decorated with yellow daisies and white gladioli. Mrs. Earl Paxton played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mr. Al Domingue as he sang "Ave Maria." Mr. Robert Pierson and Mr. William Brosch were servers.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a street length dress of white taffeta. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Miss Linda Marie Freese, sister of the groom, served as maid-of-honor. Mrs. William Anderson was the bride's other attendant. They wore street length dresses of green and yellow taffeta, respectively, with matching lace overskirts. Each carried a nosegay of yellow and white carnations.

Mr. Carl Moser served the groom as best man with Mr. William Anderson as groomsman. Ushers were Mr. Pete Daniels and Mr. James Mehl.

The bride's mother wore a sheer green dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. The mother of the groom chose a green voile dress with matching accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

After the nuptial mass, Mr. Al Domingue sang "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother," as the bride placed her bouquet at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Sacred Heart School Cafeteria. A buffet lunch was served to approximately 120 guests. The bride's table was covered with a blue lace cloth. The three tier wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded by greenery and roses. Blue candles in crystal holders were on either side of the cake.

Serving were, Nancy Anderson, Carolyn Satterwhite, Jeanette Ady, Linda Pierson and Sharon Chamberlin, cousin of the groom. Mrs. Gregory Connor was in charge of the guest book. Miss Katherine Freese, sister of the groom, received the gifts.

Following the reception, the couple left for a trip through Colorado, Utah and Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming. For traveling, the bride wore an orchid suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will be at home in St. Louis.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a barber. Tony stands at his chair from 8:30 in the morning until 6:30 at night. Sometimes he works through his lunch hour and gulps down a sandwich in the back room.

When he gets home at night he is pooped. Yet four nights out of seven friends, neighbors or relatives drop by for a free haircut. We have an old barber chair in the basement which makes it very convenient for them. Usually a dad will come by with a couple of sons and the line is, "How about snippin' a little off the sides . . . or, can you clean up the neck a trifle?"

Tony doesn't mind doing it for my father or his brothers, but I'll be cow-kicked if he owes anything to the bunch of cheapskates who don't want to spend money in a shop. He asked me to write to you for advice on how to put an end to cutting his friends' hair without making enemies.

—Tony's Wife
Dear Mrs. Tony: With friends like these, he doesn't need any enemies. The first thing he can do is take that old barber chair out of the basement. Next he can take all his tools to the shop. His brothers and your Dad can come to the shop for haircuts and everybody else can be told that Tony isn't cutting hair at home any more.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the mother of a young bride-to-be who is being driven crazy by her fiancé's mother.

The couple plan to be married in August. The fiancé's mother has spent the last two months hunting for just the right little house . . . near hers. She has already put a deposit down on a living room rug which my daughter hates.

And last week she bought material and has started on the bridal gown. (The woman makes all her own clothes, and they sure do look it.)

She telephones me at least once a day to ask how things are coming. Being tactful does not help. What's the answer?—Also Nuts

Dear Also: Tact, when applied to obtuse and insensitive people is about as effective as trying to bore through a concrete wall with a toothpick.

The job of setting this woman straight is not yours, and it's not mine either. It is your daughter's—exclusively. If she wants to hunt for her own house, select her own rug and buy a wedding gown, then she should be grown up enough to say so. This is not a matter of tact—it's a matter of maturity.

Dear Ann Landers: I just had a violent argument with my sister-in-law. We are both mothers of teenage girls. She says I'm too old-fashioned and narrow-minded because I won't allow my 17-year-old to attend drive-in theatres and I won't allow her to go steady.

My sister-in-law says it doesn't do any good to watch a young girl like a hawk because she'll do whatever she wants to, if she is so inclined. Her daughter has gone steady with several different fellows, and she does pretty much as she pleases. Am I square?

—Willing To Listen
Dear Willing: Every mother ought to know her own little chick best. If you don't want your teenager going steady, or to drive-in, that should settle it in your family. However, it is pointless to try to sell your point of view to your sister-in-law and she should not criticize you for taking the more conservative approach.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Elderly Lady Takes Pipes to Hospital
WEST PLAINS, Mo. (AP)—Queen Ann Daugherty wasn't about to leave her pipes at home when she was hospitalized here with a broken left leg. She brought her three favorite pipes with her.

Mrs. Daugherty, whose home is at Tecumseh, Mo., is 91. She said she began smoking when she was 5 at the suggestion of a physician who said smoking was a sure cure for asthma.

She said she hasn't had an attack of asthma since she began smoking.

JUST LIKE THE THIRTIES—Drought conditions in several north central states have evoked recollections of the bleak 1930s. The federal government has stepped in with aid programs in the hard-hit counties shaded on the newsmap, above. Emergency livestock feeding program is one of the measures scheduled. The entire state of North Dakota is in line for help as all of that state's 53 counties parch under a rainless sky.

Putting Wife On Salary Proves Recognized Point

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Should a man with a round wife put her on a flat salary?

The answer is a resounding yes except for one problem—what will you do with all the money she makes? Hide it in the corners? There are other problems, too.

Often housewives sigh and say they would like to be on a pay-as-you-do basis.

Often many a husband would also like to fine those same girls on a pay-if-you-don't basis.

Would it work out any better, for instance:

You start by giving your wife a fair salary for running a neat house—cooking, cleaning, et cetera, at 75 cents an hour, four hours a day. That would be $3 a day or $21 a week.

Then, naturally, there would be a surcharge for the time she spent listening to her lord and master brag about his troubles in bringing home her and his bacon.

At the same rate of 75 cents an hour, it might break down to this: Three hours a day listening to husband praise himself seven days a week—$15.75.

Five hours a day listening to husband criticize his boss and pointing out the errors of that man's ways: At 75 cents an hour, $26.25.

Now if you add these reasonable recognitions of a wife's endeavor you get this summary financial picture:

For taking care of your household, listening to your self-praise and your denunciations of your employer, the dear girl has earned a welcome weekly total of $63.

This isn't bad money for a girl who naturally has no problem but your own welfare on her hands.

Here the other side of the story enters. You have to fine her for what she doesn't do.

Major citations:

Debit: Looking at her at 5 cents a glance every morning when she shows up frizzled and without makeup—35 cents a week.

Debit: Time lost from cleaning fingernails while listening to her explain your loss of character: Her expenditure, 77 hours, your expenditure, one yawn. Price of your time: 12 cents.

Debit: Time spent explaining to her why you'd rather spend the evening at home than squire her on the town: Two hours a night, 14 hours weekly. Total waste of breath, figuring any attempt at wife-explaining at $5 an hour, $70.

Debit: Luncheon money Demands and borrowings based on the idea that a wife with eyes that close together can't be financially trusted anyway: $3.50 weekly.

Well, now, there you are. You put a round wife on a flat salary of $63 a week and the first thing you find is, she is living at a $73.97 scale.

What do women do with money anyway? Why is it they can't make it go from here to there?

DC8 Jet Lands Safely After Some Troubles

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—A Pan-American World Airways DC8 jet with 48 persons aboard landed safely at International Airport Thursday after the pilot reported trouble with the trim tab device, a part of the stabilizer which controls the climb and guide of the plane.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri was one of five Republican Congressmen Thursday to urge President Kennedy to help eliminate a predicted federal budget deficit.

and wiser controls over federal outlays."

Few Believe Deanna Has Really Quit

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

PARIS (AP)—"I can't seem to convince people that I have retired. But I have."

This was Deanna Durbin speaking. Still with glowing apple-cheeks, she was as lovely as when she starred in a series of hit musicals in Hollywood.

She and her family had come to visit an old friend. There was her husband, writer Charles David, a charming intellectual with short hair and inquiring eyes. There was daughter Jessica, a fresh-faced beauty of 15. And there was son Peter, 10, who read a book while the adults talked.

"You'd think that after 12 years the idea would get across that Deanna does not want to work any more," said David. "The French now understand it. When we go to an opening in Paris, the photographers wink and look the other way."

"But the foreign journalists don't understand this, and we continue getting inquiries. Then we have to go through the same dreary process of convincing them that Deanna does not want publicity."

Deanna added: "I suppose nobody believes that actors can really retire. That's because so many of them have announced retirement, then come back."

As one who had reported the impermanent retirements of Fred Astaire, Betty Hutton and others, I agreed. But Deanna seems a different case. Her reasons for quitting go deep.

"It's not that I didn't like acting," she explained.

"What I didn't like was the publicity, the invasion of my private life."

She has found contentment in a life of anonymity in France. The Davids live in an old farmhouse a half-hour's drive from Paris. There they make an art of the quiet life.

"I cook and I garden," Deanna said. "Before I came here, I couldn't boil water. Now my husband says I am a good French cook."

Find a Missing TV Announcer In Washington

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A television announcer reported missing from his home in St. Joseph since June 20 has been located in Washington, D. C.

Verne V. Starmer, chief of detectives, Thursday said Dwight G. Shenk, who was known as Dwight Gregory on KFEQ-TV, was traced through a job application in Washington.

Mrs. Shenk had reported her husband missing after he left home to make a collection at a laundromat he operated.

Vaudeville Actor

The After-Hours Show, KMOS-TV, presented an interesting program Monday evening, interviewing some show business personalities, among whom were Orville Whitledge of the famous Barry and Whitledge Vaudeville team. Mr. Whitledge told interesting anecdotes about well-known show people, as well as presenting some of his own routines.

Also interviewed on the show was Peter O'Sullivan, Director of the Lyceum at Arrow Rock, Mo. O'Sullivan mentioned that there will be three plays given this season, "Charlie's Aunt," "The Importance of Being Earnest," and "Rip Van Winkle."

Interviewed On TV

With O'Sullivan was Miss Joan Puckett, who is acting in two of the plays.

O'Sullivan said that in spite of a few mishaps occurring on opening night, the season promises to be successful.
